

Marvellous Infosystems: Angular Assignment No: 5

Name: Shrirang Jagdish Nikam

Enrollment No: 396AM_Shrirang

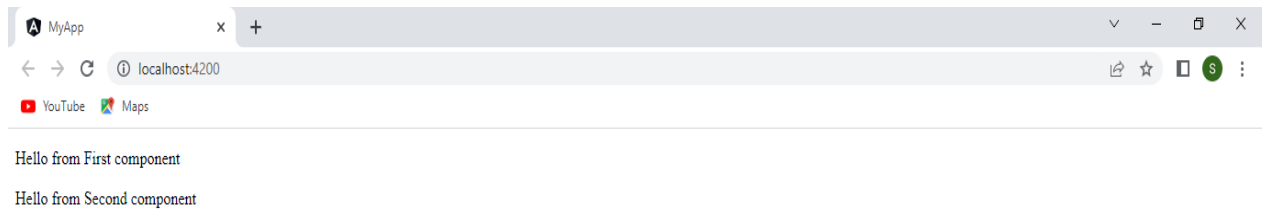

1. Create Angular application which will create one component named as FirstComp. That component will display “Hello from First component” on page. Render that component from index.html file.

Answer:

2. Create Angular application which will create two component named as FirstComp & SecondComp.
FirstComp will display “Hello from First component” on page & SecondComp will display “Hello from Second component” on page.
Render both the components from root component i.e App Component.

Answer:

3. Create Angular application which will create two component named as FirstComp & SecondComp. Firstcomp will display “Hello from First component” on page & SecondComp will display “Hello from Second component” on page. Render FirstComp from App component & SecondComp from FirstComp.

Note: Create component using below command as ng generate component Name_Of_Component
To render the component use custom tag of component in specific .html file

Answer:

